During an election count many ballots are thrown out because they are blurred, illegible, duplicate votes etc. Tuesday night a ballot was being examined that had the "X" marked for the Republicans and also "Xes" for the Democrats. Sheriff John Rose the story of the fellow who went to the polls and was later asked if he voted the Rooster. Yes, he said, but I put my "X" under the cabin. When asked why he did that he said: "I thought the rooster was in the coop."

Jennings Kearby and Henry White, a Hickman mail carrier ran a close race for representation to the Congress of the United States. Both received one write-in vote each for that office now held by Noble Gregory.

Clyde Williams, Jr. a popular young businessman of Fulton received a write-in vote for membership on the board of the Fulton Independent School District. Bob White also received one.

The voting precinct of Bondurant polled only 25 votes during Tuesday's election and there are many, many more voters registered there. Officials at the courthouse recall that in a recent year only three voters were cast there and there were more than that number of election officials working at the polls. Reckon those folks just don't care nuthin' about voting?

When Judge Homer Roberts was discussing Tuesday's election with Alben Barkley on Monday, the Judge told the Veep that if 3000 votes were cast in the election that Mr. Barkley would get 2400 and Cooper would get 600. That is 25% of the vote. Mr. Barkley received 2477 votes and Cooper 705 and that's 28 per cent of the vote so that proves the Judge a darned good estimator.

A fellow went to the courthouse Tuesday at about 4:30 p. m. and Clerk Kathryn Kelly told him that he had about thirty minutes left in order to cast his vote. Kathryn urged him to hurry because Mr. Barkley would need his vote. Replied the gent: "Well, he ain't gonna get it." That was in the department of wasted politicking.

Overheard this telephone conversation around some ardent Barkley enthusiasts:

Phone rings.
"What time do the polls close," the voice on the inquiring end of the phone asked.
"Five o'clock for Democrats, two o'clock for Republicans," said the answering end of the phone. Twern't fair, was it?

Largest number of votes cast at any one precinct in the county was in Fulton 3-A which voted at King Motor Company. Total vote was 349. In this precinct the bond issue suffered its greatest defeat with 86 votes in favor of the issue and 263 votes against it. This precinct also gave Cooper the most votes of any precinct in the county with 236 for Barkley and 109 for Cooper who got his worst beating in the county at Cayce where he received only 36 votes with 247 for Barkley.

A trend was noted in the returns with the city voters as compared with those who voted in the rural areas. The rural folks kept pretty much to the Democratic line while people in Fulton and Hickman gave Cooper a more generous vote.

County Gives Veep Better Than 3 to 1 In Election Tuesday

Alben W. Barkley, the man loved and respected by three generations of Kentuckians proved conclusively Tuesday what political dopesters tried unsuccessfully to disprove. With the spotlight of the Nation focused on the Senatorial race in Kentucky, Mr. Barkley proved to the world that he is "Mr. Democrat of Kentucky politics." And Kentucky is normally a Democratic State.

With a whopping 70,000 majority Barkley will return to his old seat in the United States Senate in January with a precedent-making election to his fifth term in that body.

In Fulton County the voters again showed their deep respect to this man who is "home-folks" here. With a total vote cast of nearly 3200 ballots, Mr. Barkley received 2477 to Mr. Cooper's 705. Mr. Cooper's percentage of the votes cast in this election was far less than it was in 1952 when he ran against Tom Underwood and was elected.

In 1952 Mr. Cooper received 1131 votes to Mr. Underwood's 2609. That year was a presidential year when a Republican president was elected and the cry over the Nation was "time for a change" after 20 years of Democratic rule. The cry this year after only two years of Republican rule, seemed to be the same. The House of Representatives has a good Democratic majority and the United States Senate according to unofficial returns on Thursday was also Democratic with a very slight lead.

In Fulton County the Republicans had no organized campaign. On the other hand the Democrats had a chairman and a chairwoman on both sides of the county. They were: Bert Yarbrough, Jr. and Ruth Johnson in Hickman and H. P. Allen and Ruth Maddox in Fulton.

J. T. (Turney) Davis, chairman of the Democratic Committee in this county worked untiringly for the party in the entire county and the big vote cast was most gratifying to him.

The First District came through as always for a Democratic candidate. The district gave Mr. Barkley a 35,000 majority, which is more than half of the majority he received over the State. Every county in the district gave Mr. Barkley generous majorities.

Noble Gregory, unopposed for his seat in Congress received as many votes as Mr. Barkley.

FULTON SADDENED BY TRAGIC DEATH OF JIMMY CREASEY

Head-On Collision Claims Two Others Well Known Here

It is with deep regret that Fulton learned of the tragic and untimely death of Jimmy Creasey, 18-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Creasey of Oklahoma City. Jimmy, who had completed High School last June was employed in a bank in Oklahoma City prior to his death.

The accident in which Jimmy was killed occurred near Dallas when a party composed of Jimmy and a great-aunt and his grand-parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Creasey were returning from a trip to Mississippi. Near the Texas city the Creasey auto collided head-on with another auto. Mr. Creasey was killed as was Jimmy's great-aunt. Mrs. Creasey is in a critical condition in a Dallas hospital. Jimmy died instantly.

Mrs. Norman Terry and Mrs. B. B. Henderson also great-aunts of the deceased youth have recently returned from Oklahoma City where they visited with the Creasey family. ## $100,000 Issue Fails; Pools, Park, Dump Get Sound Beating

by Paul Westpheling
A proposal by the Fulton City Council to spend $100,000 locally on civic improvements that would have included two city parks, two swimming pools, relocating the city garbage dump and equipping it with land-fill machinery was heavily voted down at the polls here Tuesday, 692-269.

Voting by precinct:
Fulton 1 ..... 72 139
Fulton 2 ..... 71 123
Fulton 3-A ..... 86 263
Fulton 4-A ..... 40 167

Various reasons for blocking this progressive move have been advanced, one of the major reasons being a 17c per $100 tax increase that would have resulted.

Another reason as advanced by comments to the News, that prompted opposition by the people was the refusal to spend $100,000 without knowing exactly where it was going and to whom and what for. For instance, an item calling for $6000

In the Enon Community everybody is happy that they have done a good deed and most of all is Mr. Newberry happy because his crop is in and he has a greater happiness because he has so many good friends and neighbors.

for "sale of bonds" was not given further elaboration, and an item calling for $10,000 for "purchase of land for garbage dump" was felt to be too general. Because of this many voted against the bonds even though they felt the community needed the improvements and they were prepared to pay their fair share for them.

FULTON COUNCIL PLANS PROTEST OF TRAIN STOPPAGE

Policemen Get Clothing Money; Sewers Discussed

Fulton's police force, if not too well paid for their usually thankless job, will at least be a little better clothed from now on as a result of the City Council's action Monday night in allowing them a $100-per-year clothing allowance. The action was made retroactive to October 1st and will be paid in quarterly installments of $25, and was granted in response to a letter to the Council signed by all seven men on the force.

The Council voted to send a representative to Frankfort on Nov. 24 to protest the discontinuance of Illinois Central passenger trains 103 and 104, after it had heard a letter on this subject written it by the railroad, and advising of a hearing to be held in Frankfort on that date petitioning the abandonment of the two trains.

The city attorney received $570.00 compensation for his services during October, this amount including $410.00 from fines and $160.00 salary.

The Council also worked out an approximate cost estimate for property owners in the Country Club Court area on the proposed sewer extension in that area, and learned that the majority of property owners on Taylor street are also in favor of sewer extension in their area. It voted to meet again last night (Thursday) to consider final plans and give the go-ahead to construction of these two projects. A third sewer extension program in Missionary Bottoms was not reported on and presumably will not be included with the other two.

Mayor Browning reported that the Illinois Central railroad has offered to lease to the City of Fulton two sections of right-of-way paralleling Lake Street, that could be used for additional parking areas. One section, 25 feet wide, extends from Walnut Street 300 feet to Smith's Cafe; the other section, 18 feet wide, extends 440 feet from Church to Carr Street. The Mayor estimated that the City would have to spend $6000 to $7000 on this property to make it suitable for parking and could add only about 50 additional parking spaces. He stated that he intended to get additional plans and specifications before recommending that the City take on the lease. Under terms of the lease, which would be granted for five years, the City would pay only $25 a year for the rights.

In other actions at it's Monday night meeting, the Council:

—Voted to place a 10c surcharge on baseball admissions next year, and use the accruing funds for park improvement and maintenance;

—Referred to the gas contractor the bill submitted by irate citizen Paul Kendall, who, after two days of digging on his stopped-up sewer line finally discovered that the contractor for natural gas lines had cut his sewer line and left it that way after laying the line;

—Okayed an ordinance making the intersection of State Line and Paschall Streets a 4-way stop minus the stop light;

—Okayed an action to employ an architect to draw up plans to enlarge the city clerk's office subject to approval before construction;

—Learned that it is not able to buy additional property adjoining the present city cemetery.

Eisenhower's Health Program Seems Vaguely Familiar

President Eisenhower, winding up a two-day visit to New York, has sounded new appeals for enactment of his health reinsurance program.

In the final address of his New York visit, the chief executive declared his program for expansion of the nation's voluntary health insurance plans, pigeonholed by the Republican-controlled Congress last July 13, is "the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

Speaking to 2,000 persons, who paid $100 each to charity at the annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation Dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Eisenhower said the program will be resubmitted to the new Congress convening in January.

If memory serves us this voluntary health insurance plan sounds no different from the health insurance plan which Truman fought for. We have tried to get a copy of the proposed plan to see how it differs from the program as outlined by the last Democratic Administration and which the American Medical Association fought so hard to defeat.

Because Mr. Eisenhower says that it is "logical alternative to socialized medicine" we are most anxious to study the program to see in what manner it differs from the original program as endorsed by Mr. Truman.

Mr. Eisenhower said: "We know that the American people will not long be denied access to adequate medical facilities," he said. "The program for voluntary health insurance is one further step in achieving this objective in the American way."

Under the program the government would underwrite up to 75 per cent of the losses suffered by private and non-profit insurance firms as a result of voluntary expansion of their health and medical programs.

It sounds very much to us that the medical profession is in for some sort of subsidy and we feel sure that is the last thing in the world they would want. On the other hand we concur with the President that medical services should not be denied the American public.

Now is the time, it seems, for all good doctors to come to the aid of their profession and devise some method to keep the red tape artists out of the sick-room.

Veteran's Day To Be Observed Here November 11

President Eisenhower has issued a formal proclamation calling upon "all our citizens to observe Thursday, November 11th, 1954, as Veteran's Day. On that day," it says, "let us solemnly remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly, on the seas, in the air, and on foreign shores, to preserve our heritage of freedom, and let us reconsecrate ourselves to the task of promoting an enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain."

The President's proclamation cites our custom of memorializing November 11 as the anniversary of the armistice ending World War 1 and suggests the greater appropriateness of the name, Veteran's Day (as approved by Congress last June 1st) since "in the intervening years the United States has been involved in two other great military conflicts, which have added millions of veterans, living and dead, to the honor rolls of this nation."

In directing Government officials to see that the flag is displayed on all public buildings on this day, the President is at least hinting at what the rest of us should do on this occasion when "all veterans, all veterans' organizations and the entire citizenry will wish to join hands in the common purpose."

At 15 metropolitan centers from the Dodgers' baseball park in Brooklyn, to the Rose Bowl in Hollywood, there will be ceremonies following the induction of nearly 25,000 new Americans into the full rights and privileges of citizenship.

It is appropriate that all Americans, the newest as well as the oldest, participate in Veterans' Day. For one thing, thousands of our new citizens are veterans who fought under the American flag in two World Wars and in Korea—even though this country had no claim on them. And for another, the sons of those who are naturalized on this first Veterans' Day may well be marching themselves on Veterans' Days to come.

Sermonette of the Week -

Your Light Shines Before Men

By Rev. James M. Keller, Director of the Christophers

NO MATTER who you are, there is something constructive you can do, under God, to raise the level of the channels of literature and entertainment. You have a personal responsibility to decide what you will do and how you will do it.

The foul-minded are now in the midst of a desperate attempt to degrade the bodies and souls of the American people. If their many-sided effort succeeds, we may all be paying the penalty for generations to come.

WHILE MUCH is being accomplished regulations of the law and by the valiant efforts of various organizations, much still remains to be done. And much will be done if individuals by the millions will think and act quickly when, in their best judgment, the standards of decency are violated.

Little is accomplished by complaining or criticizing. It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness. Here are a few tips that you may find helpful.

THOSE PEOPLE who would pollute the minds of America act as if they have a right to impose anything at all upon you and that you have no right to dissent. Protest your God-given freedom to demand the best and to reject what is foul and low. The task of keeping literature and entertainment in a normal healthy state is a never ending job.

You can tell your friends not to be thrown off guard by the technical approach of those who claim it is too difficult to define what is "obscene" or "indecent." Everyone knows what offends decency.

ASK YOUR NEWSPAPERS to print more stories that deal with normal people rather than abnormal. If they run long stories of crime with all the gory details or photos that have no place in the family circle, clip them out and send them back with a friendly, constructive letter of dissent. Letters of this type are never wasted.

By doing nothing to raise the standards of reading matter, movies, and programs on the air, are you not giving silent approval? You become an unwilling accomplice to the crime and debauchery that are mounting steadily because you do little or nothing to prevent them. Remember what Christ said, "He that is not with Me is against Me."

EVEN IF YOUR EFFORTS are not rewarded with immediate success, God will bless them. Your stand for decency will give moral backbone to many persons who would take a more courageous stand themselves if they knew they had the support of millions behind them.

Fortune tellers wouldn't make a living if a lot of people didn't think they could actually read the future.

If you have something to sell during the Christmas season, the surest way to sell it is with good advertising.

When you come right down to it, few of your friends will meet you half way on the entertainment expenses.

The pressure group, and the highly organized minority, often exert more influence than the unorganized majority.

The latest Russian note to the U. S. Government leaves little room for optimism about future relations with the USSR.

Despite the expected slow-up in some business fields, you can be certain there will be many demands for increased pay in 1954.

One of the best arguments we know of, in the cold war with Russia, is bigger and better air bases, nearer and nearer to Russian borders.

The movies would do well to stick to entertainment and leave politics, religion, and propaganda of all kinds out of their productions.

It is refreshing to find a person with an open mind, willing to learn. Among adults, this species is extremely valuable, due to its scarcity.

"LOCAL ARISTOCRATS"

Last week I mentioned the romantic and realistic phases of picturing a neighborhood, Fidelity or any other. One criticism that I failed to mention that has sometimes come to me is that I draw the people of Fidelity as if they were poor. "Were there no aristocrats?" The answer to both of these is short. There were no rich people, even passably rich; and there were no aristocrats. A few families there were who had a little more than the average, but they worked just as hard, lived just as plainly as the rest of us. Money as such just did not count. A very few people whom I knew at Fidelity had "been about" in that they had traveled as far away as St. Louis or Chicago or Louisville; but I knew more about books than they did. Maybe I talked books when they talked about their having ridden on a train; I frankly do not remember. My impression right now is that the ones who had the most, lived no better than the rest of us. Most families in my late days at Fidelity owned a horse or more and a buggy. There were not more than three or four surreys in the whole area and they were just surreys. Of course, there was a deal of dust kicked up by the matched team or horses that drew a surrey, but a couple of other horses could have kicked up just as much, even though they were being ridden bareback by two prankish boys.

Nearly everybody had some ancestor or relative to brag about, and rightly so, for most of our neighbors had Revolutionary War ancestors and pioneer ancestors and Mexican War an-

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bellew of near Huntington, but for the past three years, has made her home with her aunt, Mrs. A. J. Turney, 102 Washington Street of this city. She is an attractive and lovable young lady, and during her residence here won the love and esteem of a wide circle of friends who wish her a long and happy life of wedded bliss.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Julia Orr, of Westport, Tenn., and is a young man of sterling qualities holding a position as telegraph operator with the N. C. and St. L. Railroad, at Westport, where they will make their home. The newly-weds were entertained with a sumptuous dinner Sunday at the home of the groom's mother.

Mr. Alvin Wade and Miss Margorie Ward slipped away Saturday morning and were married at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. David Berryhill, in Popular Bluff, Mo. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ward of Liberty Community and is one of the most popular and beloved young ladies of that section.

The groom is a highly respected young farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wade of near Jordan. They each have a large circle of friends who will wish them a happy life together.

After November 6 they will be at home with the groom's parents cestors and Civil War ancestors, these last ones still alive and kicking. Genuine poverty or orneriness was scarce; most of our people made their own way and accepted that responsibility as part of having been born when and where they were. A very few families had owned Negro slaves, but ex-masters and ex-slaves, when I was a boy, worked in the same field, matching their skills like equals, though there was never a time when the barrier of racial decorum was crossed. A few of the women worked in the field, chiefly the wives or daughters of share croppers, but this did not disqualify the women in any way for the social and religious life of the community. In fact, there are girls in my college classes right now who have done more actual farm work than most of the share-cropper women that I knew. These later girls take pride in being able to drive a tractor or a mower or a plough, even to setting tobacco. Of course, there were some women at Fidelity who felt that helping harvest tobacco or corn would ruin their dignity, but no very great disgrace was attached to girls or women who loved to help out the menfolk when frost threatened or a heavy storm threatened to injure the hay.

Even if women felt that they must not do hard farm work, they often made good hands in the garden, as planters or supervisors or back-seat drivers when the father was doing the major portion of the difficult work. And there were always the chickens to take care of, and most of the milking was done by women when I was a boy. And don't forget the old standby of women since Eve's time—the weekly washing. Not many women whom I knew had escaped all or even most of these tasks that require a good deal of energy and even more of sweat.

Because our neighborhood was almost wholly a farming one, most of us eyed a bit critically the few who did not plow or cut wood or build houses and barns. Maybe these were our aristocrats, but there would have to be a new definition for that word if these very plain people were so called. They included the following: my father, the country doctor; the few merchants; the village blacksmith; the preacher; and such strays as the clock tinker, the pack peddler, and plain tramps. I hardly think that aristocracy would claim these.

TAX YIELDS $170,000

Kentucky's new income withholding tax yielded the State Treasury approximately $170,000 during the first three weeks receipts began to pour into the fund, representing contributions from approximately 5,000 of the 50,000 employers. Commissioner of Revenue Robert H. Allphin said the remittances were too meager to indicate a definite trend.

FARM BUREAU PLANS DEBATE ON SALES TAX

Shall Kentucky have a sales tax?

A debate on this issue as to whether the state of Kentucky shall change its tax structure to include a sales tax or not, will be one of the highlights at the 35th annual convention of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, scheduled for Louisville, Kentucky, on November 14-17.

In favor of the plan for sales tax is John Y. Brown, Lexington attorney and former U. S. Congressman, who introduced a sales tax bill at the 1954 Kentucky legislature.

On the other side of the fence is Sam Ezelle, youthful secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky State Federation of Labor, who will oppose the idea of deriving state revenue from a sales tax plan.

These two debaters will lock horns at the general session of the Farm Bureau convention on the morning of November 16 at 10:15.

Bert Harmon of Radio Station WGRC, Louisville, a veteran referee who president over the Tri-City Forum in the Louisville area for many years, will moderate the debate.

Miss Mabry Weds Mr. Holland In Beautiful Ceremony At Methodist Church In Hickman

Mr. and Mrs. Holland Cut Wedding Cake

Miss Claire Mabry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Poindexter Mabry, became the bride of Lieutenant David Kenneth Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clardie Neal Holland of Hickman, Ky. on Saturday afternoon, October 30, at four o'clock at the First Methodist Church of Hickman. Reverend Lowell B. Council of Martin, Tennessee, officiated in the double ring ceremony, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

The vows were pledged before an altar banked with palms, southern greenery, and floral arrangements of white pom poms, chrysanthemums, pink and white fujimums, and pale pink gladioli. Pink cathedral tapers gleamed in arched multiple-tiered candelabras.

Mrs. Robert Zehr of St. Louis, Mo., presented a program of organ music including "The Indian Love Call," "Poem," Chopin's "Etude in E Major, Opus 3," the traditional wedding marches; and "Calm as the Night" was softly played during the ceremony. Mrs. Graydon East of Paducah, Ky., sang, "I Love Thee" and "Yours Is My Heart Alone."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of snow white lace and crystalite over silk faille, styled along princess lines with a molded lace bodice alight with flickering sequins and a very full flared skirt worn over hoops. The dress was topped with a fitted lace bolero with long sleeves and a mandarin collar. Her shoulder length veil of double-tier illusion fell from a tiara studded with pearls and iridescent. She carried a cascading arrangement of pink and white fujimums, centered with a baby orchid.

Her attendants were her sister, Miss Joyce Mabry, Maid of Honor; Mrs. Marion Waggoner of Charleston, Mo., Matron of Honor; and Miss Flo Dobson of Chicago, Ill., bridesmaid. They wore waltz length gowns of nymph green taffeta, styled along princess lines. The fitted bodice, which had an empire waistline, was highlighted by fine pleats, and outlined by narrow bands of taffeta. The skirts were flared and very full. They carried cascading arrangements of pink carnations, and wore velvet clip hats.

Little Virginia Lee Holland, of Madisonville, Ky., who served as Flower Girl, wore a pink taffeta dress with a very full skirt caught with a big pink taffeta bow, and carried a miniature flower arrangement copied from the attendants bouquets. David Bruce Holland also of Madisonville served as Ring Bearer.

Joe B. Holland of Madisonville, Ky. was Best Man; and the ushers were Bronaugh Major and Ardel Fields of Hickman, Graydon East of Paducah, and Claude Sprowls of Louisville, Ky.

white crystallized corsage of roses and valley lilies, and flanked on either side with burning pink tapers in crystal candelabras. Twin punch bowls graced the ends of the table, and compotes of mintz and salted nuts were placed at intervals.

Some 300 guests attended the reception. They were received at the door by Mrs. Kathryn Kelly. Mrs. Joe Holland of Madisonville presided at the register. Mrs. Riley Allen and Mrs. Harold Rice Jr. served at the punch bowls, and Mrs. Bronaugh Major and Mrs. Harry B. Stokes served the cake. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Richard Hart of Murray, Ky., Mrs. Floyd Green Jr. and Misses Geneva Mangold, Elise Dobson, Phyllis Kelly and Susan Hale.

PCA TO HAVE
MEET AT CAYCE
NOVEMBER 10TH

Jack Grierson, Hillsboro, Ohio, will be the principal speaker at the twenty-first annual meeting of the Jackson Purchase Production Credit Association to be held at Cayce High School, Wednesday night, November 10 at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Grierson is expected to make an educational and inspiring talk.

He was born on a farm near Maysville, Kentucky; however, he took his college work at Chattanooga, Tennessee, where he received a degree in law. Shortly after he was married, he purchased a farm in southern Ohio. He then accepted a position with the Extension Department of Ohio and for many years served as a speaker on the Farmers' Institute Program. In 1934, he helped to organize some of the Production Credit Associations and later served as a PCA field representative in his local county. In 1946, he accepted the position he now holds with the Production Credit Corporation as fieldman for Ohio.

At the close of the meeting, ten door prizes will be given to PCA members and their wives who hold lucky tickets. You must be present in order to receive one of these prizes.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The State Property and Buildings Commission awarded the $850,000 bond contract to help finance construction 21 district offices for the Department of Economic Security to Bankers' Bond Company, Louisville, on its net interest cost bid to the State of 1.43 per cent a year. Other bid costs ranged from 1.44 to 2.42 percent a year.

MURRAY PLAYERS
REHEARSING FOR OPENING DRAMA

Less than two weeks remain until the production of "Good-bye My Fancy," the first play of the season by the Murray State Theatre.

The three-act comedy will be produced in the college auditorium Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Nov. 11, 12, and 13 at 8:30 p. m., Director W. J. Robertson as announced.

MSC stage veterans Tom Russell, Jean Heath, Leon Bennett, Jenne Jellison, Bob Todd and Blanton Croft who all appeared in this year's Summer Theatre presentations at Kentucky Dam, will play major roles in the Fay Kanin play, Professor Robertson said.

The 20-members cast also includes Mrs. Louise Jellison, Murray staff member who will make her first appearance on the Murray stage.

The comedy's plot centers around a liberal Congresswoman, played on Broadway by Madeline Carroll, who returns to her old school to be awarded an honorary degree. The lawmaker, Agatha Reed has since her wartime experiences in Europe, devoted herself to the task of acquainting people with the actual horrors of war. That is why she, portrayed by Jenne Jellison, has brought a documentary movie with her to be shown to the fresh young graduates. The movie is considered harsh and improper by the chairman of trustees, played by Troy Glidewell, and so Miss Reed has a fight on her hands. The conflict exposes the president, played by Leon Bennett, as a spineless and irresolute figure, instead of the upstanding professor with whom Miss Reed thought she had been in love with for so many years.

The disenchantment drives her into the arms of a wartime acquaintance who, as a Life photographer and portrayed by Tom Russell, has come to cover the event. And from here on, its just one big happy ending.

The cast also includes Mary Lou Bennett, Madelyn Crowley, Sari Bowman, Paula Grossner, Erlene Cole, Sharon Houpt, Nancy Spann, Ann Crider, Vance Nichols, Ralph Anderson, Harold Leath, and Gloria Plymale.

Work is nearing completion on the plays one set, the sitting room of Good Hope College for Women in Good Hope, Mass.

Advance tickets are being sold by Sock and Buskin club, sponsors of the show, but they will also be sold at the door, the director said.

Famous Magician
To Be In Fulton

Birch, the great Magician is coming to Fulton. He will be here on November 17 and will appear at the South Fulton gym at eight o'clock p. m. Birch, is being sponsored by the Lion's Club.

Princess, the Vanishing Pony, will be in Fulton, too when she will assist her master, Birch, renowned magician, in entraining the children of the city, those who are youthful in spirit as well as those who are youthful in age.

Princess is one actress who enjoys her work and who is never temperamental. She takes life philosophically and displays little or no vanity. She likes children, and a crowd of youngsters may always be seen gathered about her as she takes her daily sightseeing tour through the city.

The cooler months of the year are working months for Princess, for it is then that she is called upon to make her appearance at each Birch performance, where she is hoisted in mid-air and then disappears at the snap of her master's fingers.

It might also be said that Princess is the only living actress of note who has never sought publicity. She has never been known to give an interview to the newspapers, and has never voluntarily been quoted or had her photograph taken. She comes from the Dutch West Indies, is ten years old, and weighs one hundred and fifty pounds.

But Princess is only one small portion of the great Birch array of thrilling illusions and demonstrations of the magic art. Included in the production are many tricks which require a veritable menagerie for presentation. Of these may be mentioned the canary that appears in a burning light bulb, the vanishing ducks, the elusive doves and the ever-important magician's rabbit.

Children are always made welcome at the Birch show. The magician likes to work with them, and frequently calls them to the stage.

"I like to play to adults, of course for they can really appreciate to the fullest the beauty and wonder of my illusions, but it is really much more fun to work with the kiddies. Their naive enthusiasm and the pure enjoyment which they get from the show is something infinitely precious to me."

Not only will Mr. Birch perform the most sensational feats of magic ever presented on a local platform, but he brings a program varied with pleasing novelties. Miss Mabel Sperry, musical artist extraordinary, will play a musical interlude on her specially built Marimba at the evening performance.

Diary of Doin's

—Around Fulton—

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Ever stop to think how much of our community life revolves around our children. The truly busy parent is the one who has an active youngster in school or out of school. The parent who catches herself leaving and arriving at the same time is the one who has a Girl Scout, a Boy Scout and a teen-ager in the same household. Any one of these hep-cats in one household is enough to keep parents going 24 hours a day. But having all three ... that's slow murder.

Vacation time is busy enough. Montelle Tripp and others are the ring-tail leaders. That couple can think up more things to do in a minute than most active folks can do in a year. The hoe-down was a huge success with parents and children alike dressed Western style. A sack lunch was taken to the club house at six-thirty and from then on it was fun galore. Mrs. Gene Williams led the parents and children in folk dancing and it was a truly delightful evening. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes as follows:

Best dressed mother Mrs. Leon Faulkner; best dressed dad, Elson McGuire; and best dressed boy, Alan Benedict. Jack Carter and his "date" had one of the best times at the Scouts of which Nelson and

Among the "big activities" of this week and last was the hoe-down held Monday night at the American Legion club-rooms. This was given by the Cub Scouts of which Nelson and two-year old daughter Janis and they never missed a dance of any kind.

Last Friday night was the gala community Halloween party that was something new and entirely wonderful for the spooks that prowled on witches night. Elva Fall headed a community committee that got the party together and instead of the kids asking for treats, they asked for pennies for UNICEF, a committee of the United Nations. The idea was super. A total of $144 was collected to send to the committee to buy vitamins, milk and medicines for underprivileged children in under-developed countries. Fulton's children had a big part in sending in a nice contribution to the fund.

The kids took to the idea like ducks to water. We heard a couple of very small children ask their defensive friends, "Trick or pennies for Universal." The word was different but the idea the same.

At the end of their prowling the kids gathered at the Baptist Church and the Methodist Church for great big parties that were all a child could ask for. Candy, drinks, favors and games. Around eight-thirty at the Baptist Church we saw some mighty terrible-looking spooks getting heavy-eyed and the party closed about that time. The children passed the huge jars of money with amazement and satisfaction that they had helped to amass the mountain of pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters. Even a fifty-cent piece or two.

Then last Friday night the members of the Fulton High football team were honored at a supper by a group of enthusiastic patrons of the team. Dr. and Mrs. Glynn Bushart, Mr. and Mrs. John Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. George Moore were hosts and hostesses to a fine meal for a fine bunch of boys. The dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moore on Norman Street.

Soon the teams will be honored by the Fulton Rotary Club in their annual appreciation night dinner for the boys of Fulton and South Fulton.

Friday night Ruby and Maxwery McDade honored their son Max at a birthday party at their home on Third Street. Ruby and Maxwery's two children were both born on the same day, October 29, but years apart of course. Ann McDade Hunt, who is visiting here now was not here on her birthday so the family just wished her many happy returns in absentia. Max shared his birthday with members of the basketball team and other guests.

Dorothy Hunt of Mayfield was a visitor in Fulton Tuesday to spend the day with the McDade family and with Ann Hunt who arrived Sunday to spend a few days while Herbie is on bivouac near Fort Knox. Ann reports that she is learning to cook just fine even though she did have quite a time baking potatoes after she had boiled the spuds for a long time before trying to stuff them. "The skins were the softest I ever saw" she decided after they had been boiled.

At the Country Club on Ladies day six golfers braved the cold wind of the day to play a round. Virginia Rogers, Exie Hill, Jane Edwards, Louise Binford Sara Campbell and Ethel McDaniel were so bundled up its a wonder they had any moving room with which to hit that ball. Virginia had on nearly all of the heavy clothing she could muster of her own and then went into Boots wardrobe to finish up. Ethel McDaniel had on a bathing cap over some woolen padding on her head. That, friends, is what you call real sport for them. For us ... we'll enjoy the warmth generated by coal and gas.

Visiting at the country club Tuesday as guests of Joy Stokes were Virginia Stokes Mauldin of Gulfport and Camille Stokes of Hickman. Ann Hunt and Dorothy Hunt also enjoyed the delicious meal served up by the hostesses. Nearly 60 ladies enjoyed the day with a good number enjoying bridge in the afternoon.

Ray and Trevor Graham had an interesting, to say the least, experience the other night and of course it revolved around their little granddaughter Jen Ray Browder, who is the brightest young 'un around here and that's saying something. Wilma, Jen Ray's mother was out on this particular night, and Charles had to do a little baby-sitting, through we doubt after listening to the story who really did the sitting. Charles curled up in bed with his pride and joy and was reading to her. Shortly he dozed and soon he was fast asleep. But Jen Ray wasn't ready for bed. She went to the phone and called Trevor and told her that she wasn't happy with her Daddy at all. He was sound asleep. She asked Trevor and Ray to come over and stay with her. It was late at night and Trevor tried to talk Jen Ray into going to sleep also, but she would have nothing of it. So Trevor and Ray, who had already retired, got up and dressed and went to visit with Jen Ray ... who in case you think she's full grown with such ideas, is only three.

Diary learned these doings ... Mrs. Mace McDade has returned home after spending two weeks in St. Louis ... Noy and Lawrence Holland are in Lexington where Noy is having a nice long visit with Read and Lawrence is attending a teacher's meeting ... Bill and Bernice Smith will celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in December and methinks plans are a-foot to have a nice celebration of the memorable event ... last week your diarist, with Ruby McDade, Elva Fall, Louise Binford and Joy Stokes of Hickman went to Memphis to see the wonderful stage presentation of the "King and I" at Ellis Auditorium ... Nell and Robert Graham have returned from a trip to Louisville where they went to add a happy arrival to Anna and R. L. Hitchcock's new son, whom they have named after the proud grandpa, Robert Lee ... Elizabeth Ann Hart and baby Rebecca Ann are visiting Lawson and Frances Roper ... Lawson and Frances attended a Masonic convention in Louisville and then went over to Indianapolis to bring Elizabeth Ann and the baby here for a nice long visit ... James will come here in a couple of weeks to accompany them home.

Fulton was happy to have a nice visit Monday from Jane Barkley, the Veep's "better half" also in the Barkley entourage was Gladys and Henry Ward, whom Fulton is always glad to welcome ... Mrs. Barkley told the diary that in her travels she is amazed to hear young people say: "My grandfather was a good friend of Mr. Barkley's." middle age people will say: My father knew Mr. Barkley ... very old people will say I have known Mr. Barkley always." Mrs. Barkley says it must be a rare man who knows three generations of people. Fulton people have always known Mr. Barkley to be a very rare man indeed, Mrs. Barkley.

Within a few days Dick and Pat Hill and their two lovely little girls will be in Fulton for a visit before the Hill family moves back to Australia. Dick has been in New York for almost a year with a large aluminum manufacturing company. He has done so well with the firm that they want him to be in charge of their offices in Sydney, Australia. Pat's folks live in Melbourne, which is about 600 miles from Sydney. The Hills have endeared themselves of these folks in these United States and it is with sadness that we learn of their leaving, but with happiness that we know that Dick has received such a wonderful job. It will be good to see Dick and Pat and the girls again, even for a short visit before they go "down under" again.

Grace Hill Beard and Mary Swann Bushart took off like big birds Sunday in Grace's new Chevrolet to visit friends in Lexington. Grace of course will move over to the UK campus to see Virene Beard and the other Fulton lads and lassies at the University of Kentucky.

Coach Gorrence had himself a fine piece of pecan pie last week made by the deft hands of Mary Latta. Mrs. Walter Hill suggested to Mary that the next time she made this specialty of hers to bring a slice to the Coach. Mary made it right away much to the surprise of Mrs. Hill and the Coach ... (Mrs. Hill knows how to get a pie made, don't you Bertie?)

It has been reported, reliably, that popular Lucy and Bill Frank and their young one will visit in Fulton County come next Spring. Bill, you know was rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church here and is now in Alexandria, Va. Former parishoners of this popular couple in Fulton, Hickman and Columbus will be mighty glad to see them again and are speeding the days until the blossoms start to show again.

W. R. Butt of Frankfort, the man who values his vote more than anybody we know was in Fulton on Tuesday to cast his ballot. Mr. Butt usually votes absentee but this time he marked the "X" in person. J. P. (Banana) Morgan was also here.

Cissy and Gene Hatfield moved Wednesday into a lovely apartment on West State Line. They will live next door to Sue and Pete Byars and that makes everybody happy. Cissy and Gene will motor to Louisville this week end to show off their fine son to Gene's folks. What a happy reunion that will be.

Bailey Binford, Jack Thorpe and Shirley Homra visited their families in Fulton last week end. The three visitors are students at the University of Kentucky.

Ellen and Joe Davis, Elsie Weaks and Katherine Browder will from a happy foursome this week end motoring West. The Davises will visit relatives in Oklahoma City as will Elsie, while Katherine will stop off in Bentonville, Ark. to visit with her mother.

High brass is what Fulton's getting plenty of these days as our boys in the service go up the promotion ladder. Billy Murphy, son of Harry and Marian Murphy has been promoted to First Lieutenant, while Billy Reed, Clarence and Bettie Louise's jet-pilot son has been promoted to major. Billy Murphy too, is a jet-pilot.

And while on bars and stripes you will be interested to know that after the first of the year Lt. Bill Wilson will go to Germany for a tour of duty. He will have a nice long visit home before he goes and no doubt will spend much of his time with Billy Homra who is just returned from Germany after a long and very interesting tour of duty. Seems like no time at all since Billy left and here he is home again and we're glad.

Little Jill Beard had a fine birthday party last Saturday ann what is more she had lots and lots of birthday cakes which she shared with her many little friends. Jill's mother Mrs. LeRoy Beard, gave each of the little guests an individual birthday cake with a lighted candle in the center of each. Don't you know that was fun! But then Jill had a real, big birthday cake with three candles dressed up like cow-girls. Jill got so many lovely presents.

Each little guest was given noise-makers, party hats, suckers tied with Halloween ribbon as favors.

The guest list included—Gene and Tommy Cannon, Janie and Vickie Murchison, Teresa Ann Purcell, Brenda Jane Veatch, Kathy and Kay King, Patti and Allen Parrish, Nancy and Eddie Taylor, Mike and Jan Green.

The mothers attending were Mrs. Charles Green, Mrs. Roy N. Taylor, Mrs. J. H. Beard, Mrs. Billie Joe King, Mrs. Charles Cannon, Mrs. B. J. Murchison and Mrs. Billy Parrish.

It is a sure thing that the foundation of the Masonic Lodge here was lived and re-lived last week when Mrs. Harold Muzzall entertained at a family reunion. Many of the guests at the delicious dinner were relatives of the late Jacob Roberts for which the Masonic Lodge here was named. The dinner was (Continued on Page Eight)

PATRICIA LATANE

Miss Latane:

I am a girl 17 years old and am going to school. I went with a boy during the summer who I learned to love, and I would like to know does he love me? Will he finally write?

B. K.

Dear B. K.:

I don't think you know what love is, and as for the boy you are thinking about you should know he doesn't care for you, if he had when you went to him and told him the trouble you were in he would have married you he wouldn't have left you to get out of it the best way you could. But as old as you are you should know right from wrong so don't blame the boy, blame yourself and your parents. You should have known better and your parents should have known that the boy was too much older then you, they know that they shouldn't allow you to stay out so late at night, if your parents doesn't care about your life you should. So my advice to you is to start acting like a lady, don't do things that you know are wrong, for you will have to pay for them for years to come, tell the boys you date that you have got to go home at 10:30 or 11 o'clock and they will think more of you, stop trying to be popular just be yourself and you will find that your life will be richer with happiness with some of your school boy friends then with older boys and you will find it will pay off with happiness in later years.

Dear Miss Latane:

I have been noticing a change in my husband, what can it be? Is he going with someone else?

M. T.

Dear M. T.:

Have your husband see a doctor. No he isn't going with anyone else.

Dear Pat:

Just writing you a line to ask you a question sure hope you can answer it this week. Do you think the man I'm married to is seeing his first wife?

M. J. Z.

Dear M. J. Z.:

Yes, he is seeing his first wife every chance he gets and you are the cause of it. If you would stop nagging and fussing and throwing her up to him every meal it would be a different story. Remember, you can be kind to a dog and he will come to you, but start throwing and he will start running.

Dear Patricia Latane:

I have been reading your letters for sometime now, and thought I would write you as I have a question I would like to ask. Would V. H. go with my husband if she had a chance?

B. J.

Dear B. J.:

I hate to tell you but V. H. has been going with your husband for several months. If you recall you went on a visit to see your family, and while gone they started going together. I don't think it's serious, but take my advice and stop asking her to go every where you and your husband go.

Dear Patricia:

I have lost a letter from an old friend can you tell me where I put it?

R. C. J.

Dear R. C. J.:

You have a wall clock in your hall, look on top of this clock you will find your letter.

Dear Miss Latane:

I am going with a man who is 42 years old and who is real nice to me. Do you think he will ask me to marry him any time soon? Would we be happy?

Would the children and he get along?

C. M.

Dear C. M.:

How can anyone who is married ask you to marry them. This man is married and has either 2 or 3 children, my advice to you is to find a new boy friend and in picking one out find one who isn't married. It isn't hard to check up on someone if you want to. If you will think back this man has mentioned his wife and children to you, What did you think he had done with them? And as for this man leaving his wife and children for you and your children he will not, This man is well thought of and runs a place of business in a near by town, and he has never thought of leaving his family for you.

Dear Patricia:

First time to write. Please help me to help myself.

I have been going with a girl for two years and have been her almost constantly since we met. She tells me that she loves me and has proved it in many ways. There isn't a thing that she hasn't done for me. She has given me gifts of all kinds, money and has bought me gas many times. But I am so jealous of her. I have watched her from every angle and have never caught anyone at her home or ever caught her gone from home.

She is attractive and when we are out I can tell that the men have their eyes on her, but she doesn't pay them any attention at all. I'm so afraid of losing her to someone else.

She is sweet and nice to me in every way and I get angry with her sometimes over this jealous heart of mine and say things to her I know she doesn't deserve but still she goes ahead with her sweet kindness towards me. She says the love she has for me makes her look over the way I treat her and the things I say, I love her better than I do myself but what can I do to overcome the jealousy that I possess. Tell me Patricia, would she be so true to me and do the things that she has done for me if she didn't really love me? We never go to cheap places because it has to be the best with her. For she is highly respected in her home town. Am I being foolish to be so jealous of her? Please help me and tell me what to do to overcome this feeling. Excuse the lengthy letter. Your friend.

Dear J. B.:

You do not love this girl because if you did you would trust her she loves you but you don't love her. If you cared for her the way you claim you did you wouldn't be accepting money from her or you wouldn't be letting her buy the gas. You would have the money for such things. I think if you will look back you will remember dating this girl before she and her first husband were separated or divorced and when you steal another man's wife you can never be happy with them nor them with you. You didn't love this woman to start with. You started out to see if you could date her, and you did get the date so it has just kept up. Now that you have separated her and her husband and caused them to get a divorce you feel bad about it and you don't know what caused it unless it was love. So you are trying to convince yourself that you are jealous is the reason you don't get along but you are wrong. You aren't jealous and you aren't in love. You are looking for an excuse for the big wrong you two have done.

Well J. B. my advice to you is to pat her on the back and wish her well and maybe she and her ex-husband will go back together, then you can find piece of mind until then you won't. Remember when you find the one you love you will trust them. You will be jealous to a certain extent but not like you say in your letter to me, and you want wonder if its love, you'll know.

Remember to always leave married woman alone, even if they throw themselves on you turn and walk away. Never take up, because you will someday regret it if you do.

Dear Patricia:

I have been dating a man for nearly two years? But he was seen last Saturday night in one of our Cafe's here in town with another woman and he said she was his wife. Tell me Patricia, was it really his wife or some other woman he is dating?

Worried

Dear Worried:

When writing always give your initials in the future or your letter will not be answered. No, it was his wife and if this man will tell you the truth you will find he is the father of three children. Stop seeing this man find someone else and don't pick up married men. Remember the golden rule "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you". You wouldn't appreciate some girl going out with your husband so leave married men alone, they can never mean anything to you. They can't carry you to places you would like to go and you can't build a future with a married man.

Dear Miss Latane:

I have read several of the letters you have answered since you have been back in the paper would like for you to answer some questions for me. As I feel they will help in my future life a lot and will take your advice as soon as can.

Does the man I thought admired me a lot really care for me more than for a friend? His initials are H. Is my old boy friend the one I should stand by although he isn't here in the state of Kentucky? His initials are J. Please tell me who will be my next date and will I go steady with him? If so, what's his initials and when will I go with him? Will it be this month or what month will it be as I am a very lonely girl.

A heart sick
Teenager

Dear Heart Sick Teenager:

H. doesn't care for you, neither is J. in love with you so the best thing for you to do is get busy having a good time and forget love, for the present time. The best place to meet young people is at church and school and when love comes along you will know it and so will he.
